

Linn D. Owen
Business Development Specialist
North Carolina Military Business Center

Linn Owen has been a member of the North Carolina Military Business Center (NCMBC) Business Development Team since July 2005. She is affiliated with Sandhills Community College in Pinehurst and offers service to the following North Carolina counties: Moore, Hoke, Lee, Montgomery, Richmond, Robeson, Scotland, Stanly and Randolph.

As a Business Development Specialist, Linn assists North Carolina businesses in winning Federal business opportunities which will thereby grow their companies. To reach that goal, she is responsible for identifying Federal Government bidding opportunities and assisting North Carolina firms to win contracting opportunities; and to help NC small businesses to develop and win subcontracting opportunities. Linn specifically identifies opportunities advertised from Fort Bragg MICC Contracting Office as well as military construction projects from Savannah District and other district offices of the Corps of Engineers.

Linn retired from the Federal Government in 2004 with 30 years of civilian service. She started her career with the Environmental Protection Agency, and subsequently worked with the US Air Force and the US Army.

Ms. Owen's last 17 years of Federal service were spent at Fort Bragg in the Directorate of Contracting; now titled the MICC Contracting Office. She held Contracting Officer positions in all divisions within the directorate. She attained the highest certification level in the Acquisition Professional Development Program and held an unlimited Contracting Officer's warrant. Linn served as contracting officer on the job order contract -- an indefinite-delivery, indefinite-quantity construction contract for many years.

Linn is a Moore County native and currently resides in West End, NC.
