

Anne Campbell
Military Business Coordinator
North Carolina Military Business Center

Anne Campbell has been a member of the North Carolina Military Business Center since July 2010. She serves as the Military Business Coordinator for Camp Lejeune.

Ms. Campbell assists North Carolina firms in entering the federal marketplace as well as increasing their federal business through prime and subcontracting opportunities. Her primary responsibilities include identifying opportunities at MCB Camp Lejeune and sourcing those opportunities to North Carolina businesses statewide. She also provides solicitation and post-award assistance to companies and works to engage local firms in subcontracting opportunities for upcoming projects on base.

Prior to her move to North Carolina, Ms. Campbell attended graduate school at the University of Texas at Austin, receiving her MBA in May 2010. While in school she held an internship position with BP in the Refining Technology Group, performing competitive intelligence analysis.

Ms. Campbell, a Maryland native, received her B.S. in Chemical Engineering in 2005 from the University of Maryland, College Park. She worked for DDi Corporation, a printed circuit board manufacturer in Sterling, Virginia, as a Process Engineer from 2005-2008.

Her office is in the Small Business Center at Coastal Carolina Community College in Jacksonville. She currently resides in Onslow County with her husband, who is stationed at Camp Lejeune.
