

PAMELA N. POGUE
Military Business Coordinator
North Carolina Military Business Center

Pamela Pogue has been a member of the North Carolina Military Business Center (NCMBC) Business Development Team since July 2009. She serves as the Military Business Coordinator for Seymour Johnson Air Force Base (AFB).

Ms Pogue engages NC companies in the federal marketplace. Her primary responsibilities include identifying military business opportunities at Seymour Johnson AFB and sourcing those opportunities to North Carolina (NC) businesses statewide. She identifies United States Postal Service (USPS) business opportunities being procured by the Eastern Facilities Service Office and all other USPS business opportunities with performance in NC and sources those opportunities to NC businesses statewide as well. In addition, Ms Pogue provides businesses both group and one-on-one solicitation and proposal assistance to win federal contracts. She pre-positions NC businesses for prime and subcontracts.

Ms. Pogue retired from the Federal Government in 2009 with 31 years of civilian service. During her career, she was employed with the US Army, the US Department of Agriculture and the US Air Force.

Ms Pogue's last 20 years of federal service were at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base in the 4th Contracting Squadron. She held numerous management positions and retired as the Acquisition Flight Chief. She attained the highest level of certification in the Acquisition Professional Development Program and held an unlimited Contracting Officer's warrant. Pamela was the Acting Director of Business Operations and the Small Business Specialist for the base.

Ms Pogue is a North Carolina native and currently resides in Goldsboro. Her office is located in the Industry and Business Center at Wayne Community College.
